Legislation Creates Urban Agriculture Zones to Eliminate Food Deserts

As food deserts across Chicago and Illinois continue crippling struggling families’ ability to access nutritious food, state Rep. Sonya Harper, D-Chicago, is sponsoring legislation that would help eliminate food deserts through local Urban Agriculture Zones (UAZ) that would allow communities to grow their own food.

Food deserts make up a significant portion of the South Side of Chicago where residents are forced to buy unhealthy food items at gas stations or convenience stores, said Harper. “My bill will help those who are already trying to make and grow their own food locally so our neighbors can purchase healthy alternatives.

Harper’s House Bill 3418 would allow local governments across Illinois to establish their own UAZ to tackle food deserts head on. These zones would empower residents to grow their own healthy foods that they cannot easily purchase at a local grocery store or farmer’s market.

Harper also has a petition for residents to add their name urging Illinois legislators to quickly pass this measure. Interested residents should call Harper’s constituent services office at 773-925-6588 or email sonyaharper@gmail.com to add their name to the petition.

“De La Salle is a food desert for over 40 years, and it is incredibly difficult and inconvenient to have to travel across the city to buy nutritious foods,” said Harper. “The oasis has played a significant role in the community for far too long, and I want to be able to empower my constituents with the tools they need to try and grow their own food.

Harper represents the 6th District, which includes all or portions of Armour Square, Bridgeport, Chinatown, New City, West Englewood, and Marquette Park.

Move More Month: How to Hit Your Stride

As spring given way to summer, some of us Illinois residents may be emerging from a state of “seasonal indoor syndrome.” Since National Walking Day (April 4) is “Move More Month,” it’s time to face up those sneaker trends that face our stride.

Spring walking and running shoes may help maintain a healthier weight, ward off depression and prevent serious health issues like heart disease. And a report from Harvard Medical School concludes that walking can help keep skin sweaters, boost the immune system and ease joint pain.

If you are running or walking, you’re out moving and wonder if there is a cap on, rest assured that studies say no. Mentioning a quick walking pace has been shown to increase (500 steps within seven minutes ± five times per day) and tenacity (at least 10,000 steps per day)

One way they address that is to cut back on expenses. Some people have decided to get a part-time job to bring in extra money and working becomes another way to stay connected. “Stage 2, realizing you may need assistance. More than 70 percent of Americans older than 65 will need some form of long-term care at some point in their lives, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. What people may not realize is that retirement isn’t just one stage; it’s at least three — retirement, the transition and the future.

Summer Fun at Santa Lucia

With spring officially here, it is not too early to look ahead to the sunny and warm days of summer! Have you thought about how you will be spending it? Santa Lucia School is well-known for it’s yearly summer fun program, S.E.E.P (Summer Educational Enrichment Program). Children from all around love to attend this 8-week program. The program accepts children from ages 3 to 12 (and need not be students at the school to enroll). S.E.E.P. students enjoy visiting Armour Park daily, weekly church prayer services, cooking projects, arts & crafts, STEM activities (building, designing, engineering), and weekly field trips. Each year, the teachers who run the program design a specific theme that the 8-week program revolves around. It is a great way to make new friends, meet some of the teachers from Santa Lucia school, stay safe, and keep those brains engaged all summer. Please feel free to call the school at any questions or inquiries at 312-326-1839.
