National Retro Day

On February 27th, National Retro Day takes us back to a time before smartphones and the internet. Every generation looks back and asks, “Remember when?” National Retro Day is a reminder of what life was like before the arrival of the internet, smartphones, and the computers we use today.

Exploring God at New Life Community Church

On Sunday, February 17th, Justin Francis of New Life Community Church in Bridgeport preached the fourth sermon of the 7-week Explore God series. These decision-born seminars are meant to create a platform for open and honest discussion while examining scientific, philosophical, and spiritual evidence for Christ’s divinity. This week’s question was “Is Jesus really God?”

Christianity is based on the person of Jesus Christ. It claims that Jesus is a member of the Trinity (one eternal God self-existent in three persons) who entered our history, took on human flesh, died as a willing sacrifice for the sins of the world, was raised from the dead and ascended back to heaven after promising to return to reign as Judge and King. But can this claim about Jesus be supported?

First, we must acknowledge that Jesus of Nazareth has existed as a person in history. As early as the first century, accounts were recorded of a man named Jesus, who was known as “the man who advertised his business…has one” (Josephus, 93 AD).

Next, in the source material of the New Testament gospels, Jesus declares he is God in three prominent ways. First, he accepts worship as God, something no human being could ever do (Matthew 14:33). Secondly, he claims to forgive sins, a sacred act only God can perform (Mark 5:5-6). Third, Jesus makes explicit statements that he is God in John 8:58, Jesus calls himself “I Am,” the title God gave himself over 4,000 years earlier when speaking to the prophet Moses (Exodus 3:14). From this, Jesus’s Jewish audience immediately recognized his assertion to deity because they “picked up stones to throw at him…” (John 8:59). Jesus was sentenced to death and crucified because he claimed to be God. Although he was openly accused of blasphemy in this way, he never changed his mind or tried to correct it as a misunderstanding. Instead, Jesus went to the cross defining his position as the Messiah, God in the flesh (Mark 16:1-64).

A good evidence of Jesus’s deity is that most of the apostles endured horrifying deaths because they refused to renounce Jesus as God from this. We can conclude that instead of fabricating a legend of a deity, Jesus was who he claimed to be.

De La Salle congratulates each of these Meteors on their achievements and wishes them every future success.

Chief Judge Evans Announces Women’s History Month Courthouse Tour

Circuit Court of Cook County Chief Judge Timothy C. Evans announced the court will celebrate Women’s History Month on Wednesday, March 13, 2019, with a tour of the Richard J. Daley Courthouse, 50 West Washington Street, Chicago, beginning at 10 a.m.

The Daley Center is the main courthouse for the Circuit Court of Cook County, one of the nation’s largest unified court systems. Tour highlights will include a visit to a courtroom to observe a civil trial in progress, an informal question and answer session with a panel of women judges and the opportunity to meet a representative of the Women’s Bar Association of Illinois, co-sponsor of the tour.

Tour participants will receive a copy of the court’s guide which offers helpful information about how the Circuit Court of Cook County is structured, explains the basics of trial proceedings and includes a directory of court and county services.

This tour is reserved. Individuals or groups planning to attend the Annual Women’s History Month Courthouse Tour should contact the Circuit Court of Cook County’s Office of Accessibility and Education Outreach, at 312-603-1927 on or before Friday, March 8, 2019.

The tour is aimed at persons age ten and older, with a maximum of 35 persons to a group. For more information about other courthouse events and general information on the Circuit Court of Cook County, visit www.cookcounty.gov.

Postal Service Informed Delivery Always on Duty

Informed Delivery, a free Postal Service feature, allows residential customers to digitally preview their mail and manage packages scheduled to arrive soon! Informed Delivery allows customers to view grayscale images of the exterior, address side of letter-sized mailpieces and track packages in one convenient location. Images are only provided for letter-sized mailpieces that are processed through USPS automated equipment.

Informed Delivery is available for digital and physical. The free feature allows users to digitally preview their incoming mail and manage their packages— wherever, whenever—from a computer, tablet or mobile device.

One word: Convenience. Fifteen million customers already access the free notification service which provides digital outside images of letter-sized mail destined for your home via a daily email or through informed delivery apps. These images are also accessible on the Informed Delivery online dashboard and mobile app.

Informed Delivery allows users to track packages, too. If USPS Tracking is available for an incoming package, customers can see the delivery status in their Informed Delivery emails. Additionally, they can manage notifications and schedule redelivery from the Informed Delivery dashboard.

Businesses can add interactive content to Informed Delivery emails. When a consumer clicks on this feature, he or she will be taken to the company’s website to receive offers, coupons or to learn more about the firm’s products and services.

The Postal Service receives no tax dollars for operating expenses and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations.

Red Cross: Severe Shortage of Type O Blood

The American Red Cross has a severe shortage of type O blood and urges type O donors — as well as eligible blood donors of all blood types — to give now to ensure lifesaving patient care isn’t impacted this winter.

Type O blood is the most in-demand blood type, helping patients facing life-threatening conditions and emergencies every day. Type O negative blood can be transfused to patients with any blood type and is what emergency room personnel reach for when there’s no time to determine a patient’s blood type. Type O positive blood is also especially needed because it is the most transfused blood type and can be given to Rh-positive patients of any blood type.

Having a readily available blood supply is critical for patients like Luna Giles, who at the age of 1 1/2 has already undergone two heart surgeries and required over a dozen transfusions.

“Each time, the nurse would bring in a bag of blood for her transfusion, I noticed a small label on each one that said ‘Donation Type: Volunteer,’” said Luna’s mom, Jessie Giles. “It made me think about each individual who donated blood for my daughter. I would never know who those individuals were, and they would never see the effect their donation had. But each of those individuals, strangers to us, absolutely saved my daughter’s life. They may never know it, but to me, they are heroes.”

Right now, the Red Cross has less than a three-day supply of most blood types, and blood products are being distributed to hospitals faster than donations are coming in. Recent snowstorms and severe weather in many parts of the country have forced hundreds of blood drive cancellations, causing more than 20,000 blood and platelet donations to go uncollected.

Individuals of all blood types — especially type O — are asked to make an appointment to donate blood by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

They say there is a reason. They say that time will heal. But neither time nor reason will change the way we feel. For no one knows the heartache that lies behind our smiles. No one knows how many times we have broken down and cried. We want to tell you something, so there:

You’re so wonderful to think of, but so hard to live without.

Missing you more than we can ever say...
